

Sessions in Art and Archaeology

October 11 - 16
Nugget Casino Resort | Sparks, NV
Spark Science at SciX2020

The premier meeting for Analytical Chemistry and Allied Sciences

2020 is the first year that Archaeology and Art Analysis will be a SciX special theme!

Conference Keynote Speaker:

Rachel S. Popelka-Filcoff Ph.D., FRACI, Flinders University is an internationally recognized expert on the chemistry and material properties of mineral pigments in the archaeological and ethnographic record.

See the latest interdisciplinary research with invited symposia on:

Art analysis and museum science

Archaeometry research in indigenous cultures

Student research in chemistry of art and archaeology with additional symposia cross-listed from other conference sections

Some recent paper topics from art and archaeology at SciX 2019 include:

Spectroscopic mapping of manuscripts, Archaeological organic residue analysis, Micro- to nanoscale IR in heritage science, Fecal stanol analysis as a proxy for paleodemography, and Biogeochemical landscape modeling of strontium isotope ratios

Keynote Speaker:

Rachel S. Popelka-Filcoff FRACI, Flinders University

"Exploring the Layers of Indigenous Australian Natural Pigments Using Spectroscopic and Nuclear Methods"
